Activity acquired by Netmore to Lead Global Transformation of Massive IoT

Connected Vision Advisors (CVA) acted as exclusive financial advisor to Activity

January 26, 2026 – Connected Vision Advisors \(CVA\) is pleased to announce that Paris-based Activity, a pioneer in low-power wide-area network (LPWAN) solutions with a presence across Europe, North America, the Middle East, and Australia—along with its subsidiary Abeeway, a leader in ultra-low power multi-technology geolocation, has been acquired by Netmore Group. Activity was supported by global investors including bpifrance, Creadev, Cisco, Bosch Venture Capital, Orange, Eurazeo, KPN Ventures and Foxconn.

Benefiting from synergies across commercial markets, this transaction strengthens Netmore’s leadership in its primary vertical segments including utilities, buildings and smart cities, while expanding reach into the enterprise, industrial, asset tracking, and operator sectors.

Olivier Hersent, CEO of Activity, commented “Joining Netmore is a transformative step for Activity, our customers, and the market. Our shared commitment to advancing IoT innovation creates a unique opportunity to power some of the most advanced IoT solutions globally. Through our close alignment on values, culture, and commitment to service, we can accelerate adoption across industries, enabling operators and enterprises to unlock the full potential of connected ecosystems. Together, we will make LoRaWAN the default infrastructure for massive IoT.”

Activity was advised by the CVA team led by Paul Werp and Brent Lorenz
